DETAILED ACTION

Claims 1-9 are pending.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claim 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. Claim 3 recites the limitation of “an effective amount of a P2X7”, it is not clear what is meant by the terms an effective amount of a P2X7. There is not a specific range disclosed in the specification to indicated an effective amount of a P2X7.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

Art Unit: 1617

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 1-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Neely (WO 99/38532) of record and Smith (The P2X7 purinergic receptor on bovine macrophages mediates mycobacterial death, Veterinary Immunology and Immunopathology, 78, 2001, pg 249-262).

Neely teaches a method of inhibiting fibrosis and/or sclerosis in a subject afflicted with a fibrosing or sclerosing disorder by administering an amount of P2X purinoceptor antagonist (page 4, lines 14-17). Neely teaches that sclerosis are muscular function loss cause by increase fibrosis (page 8, lines 19-20).

Neely does not expressly teach o-ATP as the P2X purinoceptor antagonist.

Smith teaches that P2X7 is an ionotropic ATP gated channel that plays a role in a variety of immune response (page 249, introduction) and an important effector pathway in the immune response (page 260, first paragraph). Smith teaches that o-ATP and KN-62 are P2X7 purinergic receptor antagonist (page 260, first paragraph).

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skills in the art at the time of the invention to employ o-ATP for the treatment of autoimmune disease such as multiple sclerosis. One would have been motivated to employ o-ATP for the treatment of autoimmune disease such as multiple sclerosis because o-ATP is an important effector pathway in the immune response as taught by Smith and P2X purinoceptor antagonist are useful in the treatment of fibrosis and/or sclerosis as taught by Neely.

For these reasons, the claimed subject matter is deemed to fail to be patentably distinguishable over the state of the art as represented by the cited reference. The claims are therefore, properly rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103. In light of the forgoing discussion, the Examiner concludes that the subject matter defined by the instant claims would have been obvious within the meaning of 35 USC 103(a).

From the teachings of the references, it is apparent that one of ordinary skill in the art would have had a reasonable expectation of success in producing the claimed invention.

Therefore, the invention as a whole was prima facie obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made, as evidenced by the references, especially in the absence of evidence to the contrary.

Conclusion

Claims 1-9 are rejected.

No claims are allowed.
